Expert to Landscape Nevada City's Park

S. E. Evans, Sacramento Superintendent of Parks, in response to an invitation from the Nevada City Council, visited this city Saturday, inspected the new municipal park and bestowed praise upon the council for having selected such a beautiful spot for the city playground.

Mr. Evans has been engaged by the city council to submit plans for lanscaping the park. He stated that the City of Sacramento would consider itself fortunate if it could have such a beautiful sport anywhere within reasonable distance. The city councilmen, showing him around, called attention to Nevada City's airport and advised that Nevada City's latchstring always hangs outside.

It is proposed to get the landscaping of the park down by instituting a new SERA project and obtaining sufficient funds to pay for the labor. The work, when approved, will be done under the supervision of J. A. Miller, supervising engineer for the SERA, with headquarters in Auburn. The plan when completed must first be submitted to Alvin Reynolds, SERA director, after which the San Francisco SERA office is expected to give final approval.

"BONUS" STATES MAJOR DELANEY, IS MISNOMER

Major LeRoy Delaney, patriotic instructor, read the following address at the last meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Nevada City on the topic: "Bonus, the Wrong Word."

"In speaking on a subject that appears to make cold chills course up and down the spine of the National Administration, I have often wondered why the public has never had an explanation of the word bonus as applied to the soldier's bonus?

"Bonus is a misnomer. Why? Take any dictionary and read the definition of "bonus". Let me quote for the benefit of those who will not take time to look up the word: 1. An allowance in addition to what is usual, current, or stipulated; as, a bonus on stocks. 2. Compensation for the obtaining of a loan. In other words bonus is a financial deal word, not to be applied to the case of those who enlisted in the United States army or navy to fight for their country. In the minds of many there appears to be the thought that the money, voted by Congress to those who served in the army and navy whether overseas or in this country during the war, was appropriated merely to show the kindness of the hearts of those serving in Congress during the time the bill was passed. Not so, as the careful reading of that bill will show. The money was appropriated for the purpose of giving those who served in the army and navy a chance to rehabiitate themselves. How many men received their pre-war jobs after their service in the army had terminated? How many men walked the streets looking for jobs after divesting themselves of the uniform of the United States army or navy? Have you, who continued in a well paid job or position during the war, ever thought of these questions?

"Go back to the year of 1917 and see this picture, I will try to paint for your memory:

"No man enlisted in the army or navy, nor was any man drafted wtih the thought of receiving from the government an additional payment over the regular prescribed pay of the army or navy. His one thought was country, to do or die for country. That his country needed him was sufficient. Many volunteered, I dare say, without even inquiring how much he would receive from the army or navy; many did not know how much he or she was to receive for pay. They didn't care. They answered the call of their country during a time that their country needed them. And when a soldier came home he had no thought of what today is called bonus or additional pay for services rendered his country, whether abroad or at duty some where in the United States; his one thought was I am alive. He had no thought as to what awaited him at home, because he was certain his position or job awaited him. He could go back to the old job and begin to earn money for his family and self. Those days of heartbreaking worry were in the past. He had no doubts of receiving proper treatment from those he fought for, or served to the best of his ability in the United States army and navy.

Did he receive the treatment he deserved? Did he get back his old position or job? In many cases he received consideration; his job was awaiting him. But how many did not receive consideration? How many were informed, "your job has been filled by another; you could not expect us to hold a job open for your return from the war; this business had to carry on; we had to fill your place while you were away; the man or woman who occupies that place is satisfactory; you can not expect us to discharge a good employee who has given satisfaction." These and many other excuses greeted the one who had served his country, whether abroad or at home. And there were many who had to get out and try for another position or job in order to support not only themeselves but some one dear to them. A soldier's service to country is soon forgotten.

"Then it was, when those in power began to realize how shabbily the living soldier had been treated, that something had to be done. The word "Bonus" came to life. Why bonus? Why not pittance or wage? Pittance is the better word, for no day laborer in the United States was asked to work for $1 a day. His was a wage, not a pittance. Would any day laborer during the war have worked for $1 a day? I think not. In fact I am sure as even as early as 1912 he received from two fifty to three dollars a day.

"Therefore, today those who served their country are merely asking today for a chance to live by receiving a sum of money in this time of difficulty.

"It is not my intention to try to point out how the money already appropriated for the servers during the World War could be paid; there is no need of such pointing out. The money is theirs. Why wait until 1945, when many will have died in the interval to pay this so called bonus? Think of the men over thirty-five years of age who enlisted or served their country during 1917-18; how many will be alive in 1945? These men who are today over 50 years of age, yes, and some nearly sixty, out of jobs, too old to find a job because they are told they are too old. Think of these soldiers of our country. Think, too, of those who were younger, than thirty-five years of age; of the young men under twenty, all have grown older and many are without a job today. Think what a godsend it could be to all these men to receive their pittance, whether it be one dollar a day for those who served in this country or one dollar and twenty-five cents a day for those who served abroad. Their debts could be paid, if they have any, and many have debts you may be certain of that. Others could improve their financial situation in many ways. Think, too, that this so misnamed bonus is not a bonus, buat a wage, or as I term it, a pittance for loss of time while serving the country. With all the money being spent today by the United States government on those not entitled to a dole, what objections can there be to paying those who actually did something for their pittance?"

LEGION POST ASSISTS VETERAN TO HOSPITAL

Alex J. Rowe, of Grass Valley, left the Nevada county hospital for the Livermore Veterans hospital on Friday. Rowe is admitted to the Veterans hospital through the efforts of officers of Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post No. 130, American Legion. Rowe is a World War veteran, although not associated with any veterans' organization.

ST. AGNES GUILD MOURNS PASSING OF MRS. MOBLEY

St. Agnes Guild, of Trinity church held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Nye on Friday afternoon at which plans for the new year were made. Mrs. J. A. Fletcher was elected president, Mrs. G. W. Gildersleeve, vice president, and Mrs. H. J. Wright, secretary. Chairmen have been appointed to take charge of the several sections of the quilt parties. Mrs. C. E. Parsons will have direction of the contract division. Mrs. Ben Hall, of the mah jongg section and Mrs. Charles Leiter of the Auction section. This will relieve the president from many of the duties.

Mrs. Robert Nye will entertain the guild at her home on Broad st., on Thursday afternoon, January 24.

Resolutions of sympathy were passed for the family of Mrs. Walter Mobley by the guiltd which so profoundly feels her loss. The resolutions were ordered inscribed in the minutes and sent to the family. Mrs. Mobley was the beloved president of the guild for fifteen years and the success of the guild has been largely due to her untiring efforts. An interesting note revealed at the meeting was the fact that the guild held its first meeting in 1874.

BUSINESS DIST. HOUSING SURVEY SOON FINISHED

The survey of the business district, supplementing the housing survey of the residential areas, and being carried out under the sponsorship of the Better Housing Committee, is nearing completion.

As has been previously stated, this survey is being made for two purposes. The first and most important being to familiarize property owners with the provisions of the National Housing Act and secondly, to obtain pertinent data as to the general physical condition of business buildings in the city.

Reports show that while there exists a large field for repairing, improving and modernizing business property in Nevada City; it is doubtful whether any relatively large volume of such improvements will be made with FHA loans. Reports further show however, that there is a gratifying amount of interest shown in Title Two of the Act. Title Two is that part under which the Housing Administration seeks to stimulate the building of new homes by making long term credit possible. The amount of course, is one great factor in delaying some contemplated repairs and improvements even when under consideration.

Comments by the public regarding the survey range from resentment of what is considered a campaign to create more debt and debtors; to hearty accord with the movement and expressions to the effect that more stringent building inspection in regard to electric wiring, plumbing, foundations, etc., would help greatly in stimulating needed improvements.

BRAND NEW BUS FOR HI STUDENTS

W. E. Moulton this morning put into commission a brand new 1935 Ford V-8 school bus, the first one received in California. The bus leaves French Corral at 7 o'clock, runs down to North San Juan, and reaches the Nevada City high school at 8.25. The capacity of the new bus, which replaces the one that was wrecked a few days ago by collision with a state truck, is 30 students besides the driver. There is accommodations for four more than the capacity of the old bus The driver, Frank Miller, states that but 23 students now patronize the school bus.

The new motor bus is the last word in school conveyances. It is painted a bright canary yellow color and is stream lined. In the rear is an emergency exit, a window on the opposite side from the door, which can be conveniently used as a door. The bus is heated so that on cold mornings students need not freeze to death enroute.

SUPERIOR JUDGE FOR SIERRA COUNTY NAMED

Governor Merriam announced on January 11, the appointment of John M. McMahon, of Downieville, to the Superior Judgeship of Sierra county. McMahon is the present District Attorney of Sierra county. Since the death of Judge Neville about two months ago, Judge Tuttle of Nevada county, was assigned to preside in the Sierra County Superior Court by the state judiciary committee.

Attorney McMahon is a native of Sierra county and received his early education there. Abouty thirty years ago he left Sierra county and made his home in Lodi. There he served as city clerk and postmaster. He is a Spanish War veteran. In 1909 he was admitted to the bar and then practiced law in San Juaquin county. About 1927 he came to Sierra county.

When the late Judge Neville was elected to the superior benefi, Mr. McMahon was appointed to the office of District Attorney. He was re-elected District Attorney in 1930 and at the last election was elected for the second time. Mr. McMahon is a Democrat but besides the support of his own party he received the unaminous endorsement of the Republican party and as successor to the late Judge Neville and also the endorsement of the Sierra County Board of Supervisors. The Board of Supervisors will now appoint his successor to the office of District Attorney.

Hearing on P.G.&E Suit to Enjoin Liberty Hill Postponed to Jan. 28

The injunction and damage suit brought by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company against the Liberty Hill Gold Mining Company, Inc., which came up this morning in the Placer County Superior Court in Auburn, was continued to Monday, January 28.

This suit for an injunction to halt Liberty Hill from turning silt and discolored water into the Bear River, was filed some ten days ago by the P. G. & E., following the dynamiting of one of the latter's gates in the ditch which supplied the Liberty Hill gravel properties with water for sluicing. The P. G. & E., refused the Liberty Hill water, shut their gate, padlocked it, and put an armed guard over it, according to reports of Loberty Hill officials. On advice of the mining company's attorney James Peck, officials state, they dynamited the gate in order to bring the dispute to a head.

The P. G. & E., aside from suing for an injunction also seek $15,000 damages for the dynamiting.

Taking Kinks Out of "Road of a Thousand Curves" Has Started

Work has started at last on taking the kinks out of the "Road of a Thousand Curves." The Nugget's Camptonville Correspondent this morning phoned the glad tiding that an engineering force from the State Highway Department, has taken up quarters in the lower floor of the Mayo building in Camptonville, and that surveyors are now engaged in running the lines that will eventually remove the nausea from this dangerous and uncomfortable highway.

This road which has won state wide renown through the wide publication of the Poem by A. Merriam Conner, entitled: "The Road of a Thousand Curves," and is heartily cursed by those who must travel in the ordinary course of their business and anathematized by the casual motorist tourist, is about to experience the new religion, i: e." a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Not of course, that anyone in this generation will ever enjoy a bee-line or a crows-flight highway between Nevada City and Downieville, but at least, in course of time they may enjoy the trip without violent attacks of mal de mer.

The surveys now being made are preparatory to straightening out the turns on the Yuba Pass highway between Nevada City and Camptonville. It is reported that $75,000 has been apportioned to start this work with.

The Mayo building, the ground floor of which was once Camptonville's main drink emporium, has since been used for a justice court, and until two weeks ago was a dormitory for the local CCC camp, is now being made into an engineering office and drafting room. The CCC boys have moved into their newly constructed barracks on the government property headquarters.

Mrs. Parsons earnestly requests that all members attend as there are important matters for the New Year to be decided upon. It is Roll Call night and it is hoped that every one will start the New Year by contributing their response to roll call.

NIECE OF WM. MAGUIRE PASSED ON IN MARIN CO.

William Maguire attended the funeral of his niece, Mrs. Mary E. Gardner at Corte Madera in Marin county on Friday. The sad news of her serious illness and subsequent death was a great shock to relatives here. Mrs. Gardner was a native of Lowell Hill, Nevada county, Barney Maguire of Lowell Hill and Wm. Maguire, of Nevada City, are uncles of the deceased.

ROSEVILLE TAKES FAST GAME FROM MERCHANTS

The Nevada City Merchants had an off night Saturday, and let down long enough for the Roseville A team to cop a victory by 32 to 30. The Roseville cagers played in luck, as the Merchants could not seem to hit the hoop, and repeatedly in the closing minutes of the game missed perfect set-up shots, which, had they connected, would have insured a win for the locals. "Moose" Disbrow, former College of Pacific athlete, was the big gun for the winners, and rung up a number of seemingly "impossible" shots.

In the B game the Merchants came through nicely to win 29 to 26, in a fast game, the lead changing several times. Steger and Hoskins played a nice floor and passing game for the Merchants, while the Basko brothers, of Roseville, went to town for the railroad men.

Next week the Merchants take on the undefeated Lincoln team, in what promises to be the best game so far. The game will be played in Armory Hall, Saturday night.

TRIES CASE AT CAPITAL

Attorney William E. Wright, motored to Sacramento today for the purpose of trying the case of the Esperence Mining Company vs. Langley mining case. It came up through Mr. Munso in the superior court of Nevada county some time ago and was dismissed, the claim being made the local court didn't have the proper jurisdiction. It was then filed in the Federal courts in Sacramento with the Esperence Mining Company making the charges. Mrs. Langley, of Nevada City, has a lease hold interest in the property, which lies near North San Juan.

SNOW PILES UP ON SIERRA ROADS

Latest reports on rainfall for Nevada City are 25.71 inches for the season. This includes .98 inches for the present storm.

The state division of highways, under Mr. Fred Garrison, sent out crews over a period of several days who cleared up and completed the renoving of several major slides on the Downieville highway. Several of these slides occurred on the South Yuba River section and others this side of Downieville, with several smaller slides still remaining to be moved.

Three snow plows were sent out this forenoon on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway. No word has come back but they will continue until they clear the road to the Emigrant Gap junction. Another shift of men will be sent out at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. Garrison expects to work shifts 24 hours per day until the snow is cleared.

Word comes from Sierraville that snow there is five feet deep. It has closed the Yuba Pass to motor travel. For the first time in 15 years mail is being carried between Sattley and Downieville on skis.

The stage coming in from Washington this morning, reported 12 inches of new snow at the Junction House, making about three feet of snow at that point.

There was five inches of new snow at Coumbia Hill this morning. Estimates place snow at about three and a half feet at Allegheny.

OLD RESIDENCE TURNED INTO THREE APARTMENTS

Characteristic of the New Deal which Nevada City is experiencing is the rejuvenation of a large old residence on the lower side of the Turnpike road, in vicinity of the high school.

This property has been converted by the owner, R. C. Martens into three modern apartments and placed for renting in the hands of Donald Strandberg. Modern plumbing, lighting and heating have been provided in all three apartments. There is one four room and two three room apartments.

There are three stories in the old building and by building additional stairways, dormer windows, porches, laying new floors, installing lighting fixtures, baths and painting the venerable structure, has been converted in very modern and comfortable apartments.

MRS. CRAMPTON IMPROVING

HAPPY HOUSEKEEPING

What a change Monday morning has undergone in the past decade! Housekeeping has seen a transformation in that period. The old kitchen or basement picture is not recognizable today.

In a comparatively short time the old drudgery has vanished driven away by an entirely new method that eliminates the hard work a housewife once thought she had to endure.

What has produced this pleasant new condition in the highly important business of housekeeping?

The change was brought with newspaper advertising. New ideas circulate fast because people read advertising. It makes new desires and needs, alters old habits and leads people to fresh and better habits of living. As helpful as they are, washers and ironers could not have gained ground so fast without the aid that newspaper advertising gave them.

No merchant has used such advertising consistently, whose business has not been improved thereby. Through it he becomes the means of introducing worthwhile new methods and products to his townspeople, and he is as greatly benefited by promoting them as his customers are by adopting them.

—Colfax Record.

Through the Ages

In the first historic dawnlight,
When the march had scarce begun,
That may sometime find us standing
"One for all and all for one;"
The poor veddah in seclusion
With his little family group,
Did not care when neighbor's children
Caught the whooping cough and croop.

But the ages, sweeping onward,
Brought the veddah-andaman,
And the family group expanded
Into many a tribal clan;
Now, each clan despised the other.
And as might with them was right,
Every clansman saw his rival
In a strange, unfriendly light.

Ages came and ages vanished,
And the clan became a race;
Here and there the light of reason
Fell across an upturned face.
Still suspicion held man captive,
For as yet he could not know
That an alien is a brother
Touched by common joy and woe.

Ages dawned and ages faded,
As the races muddled through;
Frank and Hun and sturdy Briton,
Roman, Greek and harried Jew;
Brother striving against brother,
Urge of greed or lure of fame,
Gleaming heights of man's achievement,
Valleys dank with woe and shame.

Mother age with sweeping pinions,
Are we coming to that day
When all men shall meet as brothers
Here upon life's devious way?
Race and rank and creed forgetting
Are we catching now the glow
Of that world wide federation
Where the streams of healing flow?

—A. Merriam Conner.

A number of employees of the highway commission, arrived Thursday to begin work on widening the Yuba Pass highway and eradicating some of the bad turns. WEEKLY COMMENT

BY

Christian Andersen

District Attorney McMahon, of Sierra county, has been appointed Superior Judge of said county. Now that this small matter is out of the way the speculation can run it's gamut as to who will be Sierra's new D. A.

We were all agreeably surprised to see state surveyors working just a whisper above Freeman's Crossing, presumably getting ready to fix this miserable piece of road. To show that this time they mean business, all available cabins in and near Camptonville are now occupied by the crews assigned to this work. Freeman's Crossing is 19 miles toward Downieville, and those who know this road will appreciate the rebuilding of this section.

Jim Penrose likes cranberries for breakfast.

Mrs. Cunningham, who brought the Huckin's store at North San Juan, is having the store remodeled under the supervision of Mr. Jack Brooks. When this is finished the store will be more comfortable, both for customers and storekeeper. Then too, it reflects confidence in the coming year.

If you read my comments previous to the Roosevelt election, you may remember that I was "for him" and his brain trust, not that it matters either, but if my judgment is not warped, I still feel that he is on the right track. Even if our children's children pay for the advance in social security and we attain it, the price may be large but still it will be cheap.

Mr. R. L. P. Bigelow, who spoke at the regular meeting of the P. T. A., last Friday, handed orchids to the CCC camps. He seemed to believe that this was the finest investment in humanity that the government had made thus far. Mr. Bigelow ought to know.

The Townsend plan has already been subjected to the fierce heat of criticism, perhaps we will melt it down to a matrix, then refine it to fit the real needs and the national pocketbook.

The story of David and Goliath, even to this day, holds me spell bound.

Hans Christian Andersen's story of the match girl seems to me the most beautiful description of the transition of a soul from life to death. If I could die with those visions and without too much suffering I should be almost willing to go.

Sometimes a column seems to the reader the drivel, this one seems so to me. Therefore, I will attempt to bolster it with the following quotation from Victor Hugo.

"What is done is but little by the side of what remains to be done."

"To destroy is the task; to build is the work. Progress demolishes with the left hand; it is with the right hand that it builds."

"The left hand of progress is called Force; the right hand is called Mind!"

YELLOW JACKET HOOPSTERS PLAY PRACTICE GAMES

The practice games held at Redmen's Hall last Friday night were a complete success, according to Coach Barron. The following games were played: Nevada City high A team against Nevada City high B team, score: B team 27, A team 25; Nevada City high C team against Washington grammar school team, score: C team 32, grammar school 3; and Nevada City high D team against another team from the grammar school, score: D team 3, and grammar school 10.

The games were held in place of the Grant game, which was scheduled for last Friday night and cancelled when Grant dropped out of the Foothill League for the remainder of the season. No admission was charged for the games, and a fair sized crowd of rooters assembled in the old Armory Hall.

In the A and B game, Coach Barron started two second string teams as follows: A team, forwards, Tom Widauf and Franklin Tuttle; center Fan Robins; guards, Dick Marriott and Harland Barrett. B team, forwards, Allen Widauf and Anderson; center, Bill Molthen; guards, Lacey Jones and Phil Joyal. Later in the game Barron put in his first string A and B men: A team, forwards, Curtis Clark and Albert Pratti; center, Don Jones; guards, Mervin Doolittle and Cecil Schiffner. B team, forwards, Art Elliott and Ray Wilde; center, Harold Lopez; guards, Ray Steger and Walt Hallet, with Max Santinelli and Freeman as substitutes.

In the C team-grammar school game, Coach Barron started as forwards, Bill Bennett and Bob Schiffner; center, Clem Organs; guards, Everett Brown and Ray Worthley; and substitutes, Melvin Clark and Dick Tuttle.

High point man for the A team was Tom Widauf, with 12 points; in the B team, Elliott, Molthen, and Lacey Jones made four points each. In the C game, Clem Organs made eleven points and Bob Schiffner hooped ten.

Coach Barron stated that he was well satisfied with the playing in the games, and that he thought that the boys were well prepared for the game to be held next Friday night with Auburn. The game will start at 7:30 at Red Men's Hall.

Barron said that the B team had an especially good chance against the Auburn squad. The C team is to play Grass Valley at Grass Valley next Wednesday night.

FRENCH CORRAL

BY MRS. KATE M. SULLIVAN

FRENCH CORRAL, Jan. 10.—The happy holiday season over, all are back to work with a new zest and good resolutions galore, no doubt and perhaps some of us have already broken some of those "Good resolutions."

Mr. T. O'Conner, who came from San Rafael to spend the holidays at the family home in Birchville, left New Year's day to visit relatives in Sacramento before returning to his school duties.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Miller spent a few days in Sacramento and on their return were accompanied by their little daughter, Dorothy, who spent the Christmas holidays with her grandparents at that place. Mr. Miller will be driver of the school bus, pending an investigation of the accident in which the school bus was wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sutton who have been living near the river moved into our vicinity this week. Mr. Sutton has been employed on the SERA service.

The teacher, Miss Theresa O'Conner, spent part of the holiday vacation with relatives in Sacramento.

It is with deep regret we learn of the Boss mine in Sweetland has closed down, and we trust that this may be only temporary as the operation of the mine has been a great help to the San Juan Ridge. The manager, C. Lyster and his wife have become endeared to their acquaintances and will be greatly missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sibley, of Oakland, have taken up residence in our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning and Walter Melvin and Donnie were Sunday visitors at their home in this place. They returned to Nevada City Sunday evening.
